

REPORT ON KNOWLEDGE ENRICHMENT PROGRAM 2025

Sri Bhagawan Mahaveer Jain Evening College organized a three-day Knowledge Enrichment Program 2025 on “Innovative Pedagogy and Holistic Development: Empowering Educators for the Future” as an IQAC and IIC initiative. The objective of the program was to equip educators with technological knowledge, emotional resilience, empathy, career-oriented strategies, and value-based teaching approaches to enhance students' learning experiences.

Day 1: February 5, 2025

The first day of the event commenced at 5:30 PM with a general welcome by the Masters of Ceremony (MCs), Mr. Janardhana C. and Ms. Bhavani K. V. Although the Chief Patron, Dr. Chenraj Roychand, Patron Mr. Vishal Chenraj, and Vice President of Jain Group of Institutions, Sri Ravindra Bhandary, were unable to attend, they extended their best wishes and support for the program.

The event officially began with the lighting of the lamp by dignitaries, followed by the presence of the College Principal, Dr. K. M. Mahesh, and esteemed faculty members. The session featured two key speakers:

Dr. Dinesh N., Associate Professor, Department of Commerce and Management, and the KEP Introducer, provided an insightful overview of the program's objectives and theme. He set the context for Day 1, emphasizing the importance of holistic educator development and the role of innovative pedagogy in shaping the future of education.

Chief Guest: Dr. Anand Kulal

Dr. Anand Kulal delivered an insightful speech on the importance of teachers' well-being. He emphasized that educators' physical and mental health should be a top priority, as their well-being directly impacts the quality of education.

Keynote Speaker: Dr. Sathisha H. K.

Dr. Sathisha H. K. presented a keynote address on “Nurturing Emotional Intelligence and Holistic Development in Educators and Students.” He traced the transformation of education from Krutayuga to the present era, highlighting the impact of technological advancements on the teaching profession.

He pointed out that while technology has eased many tasks for teachers, it has also created job insecurities, making continuous skill development essential. He emphasized that institutions often focus on infrastructure rather than educator empowerment, and he reinforced the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, which stresses vocational and skill-based learning.

Dr. Sathisha also urged educators to remain relevant, emotionally intelligent, and adaptable in changing times. He highlighted the Five Yamas (ethical principles) that educators should embody:

- Ahimsa – Non-violence
- Satya – Truthfulness
- Asteya – Non-stealing
- Brahmacharya – Celibacy or fidelity
- Aparigraha – Non-possessiveness

Furthermore, he stressed that true holistic development for educators can only be achieved when they are emotionally, socially, physically, mentally, and intellectually aware and fit. He recommended that educators allocate 1-5% of their earnings for professional development.

Both sessions were highly engaging, with active participation from attendees, making the learning experience truly enriching.

The first day concluded with a vote of thanks by Dr. Ashwath.

Keynote Speakers of Day 2

The keynote speakers for the day were Dr. Varalakshmi S. and Dr. Umakanth S.

Dr. Varalakshmi S. was introduced by Mr. Sagar J., Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce and Management.

In her speech on "Empowering Educators for Leadership and Future Readiness," she emphasized the importance of optimism and forward-thinking in teaching. She highlighted that educators should:

- Demonstrate leadership skills in the classroom.
- Incorporate real-time case studies to showcase successful leadership.
- Prepare students for future challenges by fostering adaptability and resilience.

Dr. Umakanth S. was introduced by Ms. Darshini, Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce and Management.

In his speech on "Innovative Teaching Techniques for the 21st-Century Educator," he discussed the importance of embracing new methodologies in teaching. Key takeaways from his session included:

- Gen-Z students are well-informed about technological advancements and current trends.
- Educators must stay ahead by introducing innovative teaching methods in the classroom.
- Continuous learning is crucial—educators should constantly upgrade their skills to avoid becoming obsolete.

Mr. Ganesh Rao, the Knowledge Partner for KEP, graced the occasion and significantly enhanced the learning experience with his insights and contributions.

The second day was highly interactive and informative, with enthusiastic participation from attendees. Both sessions were engaging and thought-provoking, making it a valuable experience for all.

Day 3: February 7, 2025

The final day of the Knowledge Enrichment Program (KEP) 2025 commenced at 5:30 PM with the same enthusiasm and energy as the previous sessions. The Masters of Ceremony (MCs) formally welcomed everyone, setting the stage for the concluding session.

Recap of Day 2

Ms. Bhavani K. V. provided a concise recap of Day 2, summarizing key takeaways from the engaging sessions.

Keynote Speaker: Dr. Bhargavi V. R.

The last session of KEP 2025 was graced by Dr. Bhargavi V. R., Professor and Director, Postgraduate Department, Seshadripuram College. She was introduced by Ms. Darshini, Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce and Management.

In her speech on "Integrating Technology into Education," Dr. Bhargavi emphasized the rapid technological transformation and the need for educators to adapt. Key insights from her session included:

- Understanding Industry 4.0, Education 4.0, and Society 4.0 – highlighting that change is inevitable across all fields, including education.
- Embracing Technology in Teaching – educators should integrate Learning Management Systems (LMS) into their teaching methodologies.
- Automation of Learning – the role of AI tools in enhancing the learning experience.
- Moving Beyond Traditional Learning – textbook-based, stereotyped learning is outdated; educators must customize their teaching approaches to align with modern educational demands.

Dr. K. M. Mahesh, Principal, shared valuable insights on the Union Budget 2025, providing an in-depth analysis of its impact on the education sector and beyond.

The final day was also graced by notable guests and knowledge partners:

- Mr. Kishore B. S., Co-founder of Stock Market Institute (Stockbyte), who contributed to the knowledge-sharing experience.
- Mr. Nitish Kashyap, Founder and CEO, and an alumnus of the Evening College, who inspired participants with his journey and achievements.

Certificate Distribution & Conclusion

To recognize the efforts and participation, certificates were distributed to all attendees. The three-day KEP 2025 successfully concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by KEP Convener, Dr. Lakshman K., who acknowledged the collective efforts of the organizing team, including Mr. Janardhana C., Co-convener, and other faculty members.

The event ended on a high note, leaving participants with valuable insights, inspiration, and motivation to embrace innovative teaching methodologies for the future.
